

Vacuum Packaging Machine with Gas DZ-11002L

This high-quality, user-friendly, and easy to clean machine integrates heavy-duty parts, thereby providing great reliability. The single-chamber machines are easy to clean, meaning they can be used in facilities with the most stringent hygiene standards. The pivoting wheels make it simple to move the machines from one place to another.

This model is designed to package large volumes of oversized products. The gas filling option increases the product's shelf life, provides extra protection, prevents coloring.

This tabletop unit allows the operator to easily vacuum and seal their product with one simple machine. This single chamber machine features a clear top with two different seal bars for increased output and flexibility.
